Unemployment Insurance has been in existence since 1939. It is designed to provide short-term replacement of lost wages to individuals who are unemployed through no fault of their own. Unemployment Insurance is not intended to be a permanent source of income.

To file a claim for Unemployment Insurance, you must have and be willing to provide a valid social security number (SSN). Your SSN is used for identification purposes. In addition, employers use social security numbers to report quarterly wages to the department.

The effective date of your claim depends on the day you actually file for benefits, not on the day you lose your job. Once a claim is filed it cannot be withdrawn.

There are many rules and regulations surrounding proper receipt of Unemployment Insurance benefits. This handbook is designed to advise you of your responsibilities and rights, as well as providing you with important information regarding unemployment benefits.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

How to File Weekly Claims

You must file a “weekly claim” for each week in which you want to receive benefits. That filing determines your eligibility for payment of benefits. The calendar week for unemployment compensation purposes runs from midnight Sunday through 11:59 PM the following Saturday, Eastern time.

When you file your first weekly claim either by telephone or by internet, you will be required to establish a four digit Personal Identification Number (PIN), which you will use along with your Social Security Number (SSN) each time you file a weekly claim. It is your responsibility to ensure that no one else, including family members, has access to these two numbers.

If a payment is made in error as a result of someone else using your SSN and PIN, you will be required to repay the full amount of improperly paid benefits and you may also have penalty weeks assessed against you.

Sunday is the recommended day to file your weekly claim for the previous week and the automated systems are available 24 hours on Sunday. If you are unable to file your claim on Sunday, you may do so Monday through Friday, but only between the hours of 5:00 am and 4:30 pm. If you miss a filing date, claims may be filed within 13 days of the week ending date by calling the Claimant Assistance Line.

Filing Weekly Claims by Internet

www.labor.vermont.gov

To file an internet claim, go to www.labor.vermont.gov. Click on the “Workers” section and then on “Filing a Weekly UI Claim” under “Online Services”.

The first time you file a weekly claim, you will be asked to establish your PIN. You will also be asked if you have received, read and understood the section “Your Responsibilities” in this handbook.

You will then be asked seven questions concerning the week for which you are filing. Remember, you are always filing for the previous week and your answers should relate only to that week.

When you have completed and successfully submitted the internet claim form, the screen will display your weekly benefit amount, maximum amount, and benefit balance. If you do not receive this display, your filing has not succeeded and your claim will not be processed.

Filing Weekly Claims by Telephone

Call 1-800-983-2300 – select Option #1

The first time you file a weekly claim, you will be asked to establish your PIN. You will also be asked if you have received, read and understood the section “Your Responsibilities” in this handbook.

You will then be asked seven questions concerning the week for which you are filing. Remember, you are always filing for the previous week and your answers should relate only to that week.

Press 1 to answer YES or 9 to answer NO to the questions. When you have completed the filing, you will hear the words, “Thank you for using the weekly claim and information line. Good-bye”, which indicate that the filing was accepted. Do not hang up until you have heard the system say “good-bye” or your claim will not be processed.

The SEVEN Questions Asked When Filing a Weekly Claim

Your eligibility to receive benefits is determined by your answers to the questions below for each week you file.

1. Were you able to work and available for work?
2. Did you refuse an offer of work or a referral to a job?
3. Did you quit a job?
4. Were you fired from a job?
5. Did you receive a back pay award or settlement?
6. Did you receive Workers' Compensation, Vacation pay, or Wages in Lieu of Notice?
7. Did you perform any work or earn any wages?

Depending on how you answer these questions, other questions may also be asked. Answer all questions accurately. A material misstatement of fact made in connection with filing a claim for unemployment benefits may result in liability to repay the benefits. For more information refer to Benefit Overpayment, Recovery and Penalty Week section of this handbook.

If you forget to file a weekly claim, please call Claimant Assistance 1-877-214-3332.

If You Make a Mistake When Filing a Weekly Claim

If you have made a mistake in filing your claim, you may correct it on the same day by simply filing the claim again. The last claim filed on that day will be the one processed. If you discover the mistake too late to re-file, call Claimant Assistance to correct your mistake.

Reporting Wages When Filing a Weekly Claim

You are encouraged to accept part time work while looking for full time work and receiving benefits. The unemployment law includes a provision known as "disregarded earnings". This provision of the law allows you to work part time and earn up to 30% of your weekly benefit amount, or $40, whichever is higher without affecting your benefits. Earnings that exceed your disregarded earnings are deducted on a dollar for dollar basis from your benefit payment. When you report gross earnings, the computer will automatically calculate the amount of your payment. If you later discover you made a mistake in reporting wages, you must call Claimant Assistance to have the wages corrected.

If you work 35 hours or more, or your earnings exceed your weekly benefit amount plus your disregarded earnings, you will be considered fully employed and will not be entitled to receive benefits for that week. If your hours or earnings are reduced in a future week, you will need to re-open your claim by calling 1-877-214-3330.

You must report all wages earned from employment during the week you earn them, whether or not you have received payment for this work. The term "wages" means all payments for services performed by an individual including commission sales, gratuities, and cash value of any non cash items such as board, rent, fuel or offset of a debt. The term wages and/or earnings also include payment received in lieu of working, such as sick pay or paid day off. At the back of this handbook, you have been provided a worksheet with examples to help you calculate and keep track of your earnings.

Failure to provide accurate information when filing your weekly claim may result in an overpayment of benefits. If you fail to report all of your earnings, and as a result are overpaid unemployment benefits, you will be required to repay the benefits. If it is determined you intentionally omitted or underreported your earnings, you may have additional penalties imposed and could face prosecution for fraud.

Return to Work Dates

If an employer provides you with a definite return to work date for full time employment, you may be excused from making an active work search once the employer submits written confirmation of the promised work. A form with the information needed from the employer is provided in the back of this handbook. Even if you have a return to work date, you must be available for work. If you refuse an offer of work, and the department determines the offer was for “suitable work”, you will be disqualified from receiving benefits and may have to repay benefits that have been paid to you.

If a return to work date changes, the employer must contact the department and provide the new date. If the employer withdraws or changes your return to work date, you must contact Claimant Assistance. Do not file a weekly claim for benefits after returning to full time employment.

Losing Your Rights to Collect Benefits

The Unemployment Insurance system is designed to help you but it does have rules and regulations that must be followed. The following actions may result in the loss, denial or delay of benefits. You may be required to repay any benefits improperly received as a result of your non-disclosure or misrepresentation of a material fact. If you have questions about any of these situations, it is also YOUR responsibility to contact Claimant Assistance.

It is YOUR responsibility to notify the Vermont Department of Labor if any of these situations occurs.

- If you quit a job
- If you are discharged or fired from a job
- If you leave a job due to health reasons
- If you lose your job due to a conviction, incarceration or for any other reason involving actions by a judge, court, the Department of Corrections or a law enforcement agency
- If you leave your job to participate in a strike or labor dispute
- If you fail to file a weekly claim within 14 days from the week ending date of the week for which you are filing
- If you fail to register with your Resource Center as directed
- If you fail to actively look for work as directed
- If you fail to follow up on a referral for work
- If you fail to apply for and/or accept available work
- If you fail to be able and available for work
- If you leave your immediate area
- If you fail to accurately report the number of hours worked and earnings from employment, casual employment or sub-contracting
- If you fail to report an increase in sideline or self employment activity
- If you fail to report you are attending school or training
- If you fail to report the receipt of vacation, personal or severance pay; wages in lieu of notice; back pay award or settlement; temporary workers' compensation; or pension that is contributed to entirely by a base period employer
- If you are applying for or receiving unemployment benefits from another state
- If you cannot provide documentation of your identity and/or citizenship when required
- If you fail to report receipt of return to work assurance from a educational institution.

Reasons you MUST call Claimant Assistance

If any of the following situations occur, you MUST contact Claimant Assistance immediately.

- Your telephone number changes
- You are unavailable for work for any reason
- You are ill or disabled
- Your return to work date changes in any way
- You become self-employed or start your own business
- You move to another state
- You leave your immediate area even if only for a few days
- You attend or plan to attend any school or training programs
- You receive reasonable assurance * of returning to work in an educational setting

 Individuals who work for a school and are unemployed between terms (for example, during the summer) or during a break in the school schedule during the school year, are not allowed to use the wages earned in this type of employment provided the individual has a reasonable assurance of returning to work for a school at the end of the break. If you started the break or are between terms and do not have a reasonable assurance of returning to work, you may be paid unemployment benefits. If during this time you receive an offer of work from a school, you must notify the department immediately. Likewise, if you had a reasonable assurance of returning to work and for some reason you no longer have a reasonable assurance, call Claimant Assistance.*

Name, Address, or Telephone Number Change

If your name or address changes (even if you have not moved), you must submit these changes in writing. You may submit your name, address, or telephone number change by completion of the form at the back of your handbook. The department does not permit unemployment checks to be forwarded to a new address and therefore the checks will be returned. The department must be able to contact you regarding job referrals and have a current address to send out your 1099G form.

Telephone number changes may be made by calling Claimant Assistance, if you are not submitting a name or address change.

Work Search Requirements

Unless you have a definite return to work date with a specific employer AND have been excused by the department from conducting an active work search, you are REQUIRED to make at least three (3) job contacts each week. You must be realistic in your search for work. Apply for jobs you are qualified to do and willing to accept. Applying for the same job more than once within a five-week period does not count as a valid contact.

A valid job contact depends on the type of work you are qualified to perform. Submission of a resume would only be acceptable IF you work in a “professional” trade or occupation. Applying in person would be a valid contact for “non-professional” trades, such as work in the construction trade. Telephone calls are not an acceptable method of contact. Seeking employment by “surfing” the Internet for available jobs or by posting your resume at an employment website, including Vermont JobLink, is not a valid job contact, unless you have actually applied for a job with a specific employer. In these instances, you should print and keep any confirmation you receive indicating your application has been submitted.

You are also REQUIRED to keep accurate records of your job contacts. Work search forms are provided in the back of the handbook to assist you in keeping track of your contacts. If you do not use these forms, you are required to keep records containing all of the information outlined on our work search form.

You will be notified in writing when it is time for the department to review your work search efforts. If you are asked to submit your information to the department we suggest visiting your Resource Center. They can mail or fax your information free of charge. Keep copies for yourself of any information that is submitted to the department. If you have not met the requirements, you may be found in overpayment for any weeks you did not comply with the directives and may be required to repay benefits.

You may be selected to participate in Re-employment Services provided by your Resource Center. Failure to participate may result in a denial and/or overpayment of benefits, which you could be liable to repay.

If The Vermont Division of Vocational Rehabilitation is conducting a work search for you, your counselor can submit a letter to this department to waive your unemployment work search requirements.

Vermont JobLink and Job Service On-Line Registration

If you do not have a definite return to work date, you will be required to complete an on-line application for both of these services. You will receive written notification of the requirement that must be completed within 10 days of the notice date. If you receive this notice, please remember to complete BOTH applications. Failure to register in BOTH applications may delay or result in a loss of your UI benefits. Further information about both services can be found under "Important Information".

Suitable Work

Suitable work is generally defined as work that you are qualified to do based on your skills, work experience, and employment history and that pays at least the prevailing wage rate for the type of job in your local labor market. You are required as a condition of receiving unemployment benefits to apply for and accept an offer of suitable work. If you fail, without good cause, to either apply for or accept an offer of suitable work, you will be disqualified for benefits and may be required to repay benefits you received. Although you may be looking for full time work, a refusal of suitable part time work could also result in a disqualification.

Prior training and/or experience, prior earnings, length of employment, prospects of securing work in your local labor market in your customary occupation, the distance to work from your home, physical fitness requirements of the job, the degree of risk involved to your health, safety or morals, are factors involved in determining if a job is suitable.

A job paying less than the last one you held will gradually become more suitable the longer you are unemployed. You must be willing to accept 10% less than you were making when you filed your initial claim. After five weeks of filing, you must be willing to accept 20% less and after ten weeks of filing, you must be willing to accept the prevailing wage for the type of work you are seeking. The prevailing wage is the average wage for the job among all employers in your labor market. Your Resource Center can provide you with prevailing wage information in your labor market or it can be obtained at www.labor.vermont.gov.

Self-Employment

An individual who is engaged in the formation, development, or operation of a trade, business, enterprise, profession, or other activity undertaken for the purpose of producing income and which is in the form of a sole proprietorship, partnership, or a limited liability company or other similar entity is self employed. If you are, or attempt to become, self employed, you must call Claimant Assistance.

Sideline Activity

People who work either part time or full time for a primary employer may also derive income from a sideline activity or self-employment. After they lose their primary employment and begin collecting unemployment, they often continue performing work for their sideline business while looking for another primary job. If you established a sideline activity during a period of regular employment and continue the sideline activity without substantially changing the amount of time you are devoting to such activity, you do not have to report these earnings while filing your weekly claim for benefits.

If you increase your sideline activity by 20% or more, measured by time devoted or earnings you receive, you must call Claimant Assistance. Failure to report this increase may result in an overpayment of benefits, which you would be liable to repay. To avoid problems, keep accurate records of time devoted and earnings from your sideline activity.

Pensions

Pensions you contributed to in whole or in part are not deductible from your weekly benefit amount. Pensions, which are totally funded by a base period employer, are deducted dollar-for-dollar from your benefit amount. If your deductible pension income is less than your benefit amount, you will receive a reduced benefit.

The following types of pensions may affect your weekly benefit amount, depending on whether or not you contributed to the pension:

- Employer pension program
- Military pension
- Civil Service pension
- Local Government pension

The following types of retirement income will not affect your weekly benefit amount:

- Pension from a non-base period employer
- Supplemental Security Income
- Veterans Administration Disability Compensation
- Social Security Income

Appealing Determinations

After a determination has been issued (explained under “Important Information”), both you and your previous employer have the right to appeal a determination within 30 calendar days of the determination date. An Appeal must be submitted to the department in writing by:

MAIL: Vermont Department of Labor, P. O. Box 488, Montpelier, Vermont 05601-0488

E-MAIL: labor.appeals@state.vt.us

FAX: 802-828-4289

IN PERSON: You can deliver a letter of appeal in person at the administrative office of the VDOL at 5 Green Mountain Drive in Montpelier.

If you appeal your determination, make sure you continue to file weekly claims each week you are unemployed until a decision on the appeal has been made. Failure to file weekly claims may result in a loss of benefits for the weeks not filed for.

Three Appeal Levels

The first level of Appeal is to the Administrative Law Judge. Appeals to the Administrative Law Judge must be submitted, in writing, no later than 30 calendar days from the date of the determination being appealed. Regardless of which party appeals, it is very important to participate in this telephone hearing, as this is your only chance in the appeals process to present testimony and evidence relevant to the issues. After the hearing is completed, a written decision will be sent to all parties involved.

The second level of Appeal is to the Vermont Employment Security Board. Appeals to the Vermont Employment Security board must be submitted, in writing, no later than 30 calendar days from the date of the decision being appealed. The Board will conduct a hearing in Montpelier to review all testimony and evidence presented at the Administrative Law Judge hearing. You may participate in the hearing, but no new testimony or evidence may be presented. After the Board hearing is completed, a written decision will be sent to all parties involved.

The third level of Appeal is to the Vermont Supreme Court. The Clerk of the Employment Security Board must RECEIVE appeals to the Vermont Supreme Court, in writing, no later than 30 calendar days from the date of the determination being appealed. Although it is not required, many people engage the services of an attorney before proceeding with an appeal to the Supreme Court. There is a filing fee for appeals to this level, but in some circumstances the court can waive this fee. The Supreme Court will review the record and issue a written decision, which is final.

The Appeal Process

Notice of Hearing

The Notice of Hearing before an administrative law judge will provide you with important information about the time and date of the appeal hearing, which will be conducted by a telephone conference. Mail or FAX (802-828-4289) any documents you want to have considered as evidence in the hearing to the appeals office and, if the case involves your former employer, to that employer so they can be considered as part of the record. Do this immediately following receipt of the Notice of Hearing so the documents are received no less than 24 hours before the hearing. If you do not send a copy to the employer, your exhibits will NOT be entered into the record, will not be considered in making the decision and will not be available for use later in the appeal process.

NOTE: After receipt of the Notice of Hearing, you must call the appeals office with a telephone number where you can be reached at the time of the hearing, even if you have previously supplied a telephone number. You will not be called if you do not supply a telephone number.

Do I Need a Lawyer?

Hearings are designed to permit laypersons to represent themselves. If the issues are complex, if you expect the other party to be represented by an attorney, or if you think you may have difficulty presenting your case, you may wish to consult an attorney. You can also contact Vermont Legal Aid to see if they can provide legal assistance to you. If you are going to have an attorney, you should let the appeals office know as soon as possible to avoid scheduling delays. Hearings will not be postponed to allow a party to seek legal representation.

Evaluate and Prepare Your Evidence

The first level of appeal with the Administrative Law Judge is a de novo review, which means the judge reviews the case based solely on evidence presented in the hearing record. The judge is not bound by earlier findings or determinations made by the department. Since this will be your ONLY opportunity to present your evidence, and further appeals only review testimony and other evidence introduced at this hearing, you should submit your side of the story and participate in this process.

What Goes on at the Hearing Before an Administrative Law Judge?

Testimony is taken under oath and tape recorded. The Administrative Law Judge will first determine which records, if any, will be made part of the record. Depending on which party has the burden, that party will go first in presenting its side of the dispute, including presenting witnesses, if any. Next, the other side is given an opportunity to present its side of the dispute, including presenting witnesses, if any. Following that, both parties, in turn, will be given the opportunity to ask relevant questions of the other. Relevant information is information that bears directly on the issues that are being considered, including the credibility of witnesses and parties. While these proceedings are administrative in nature, and do not follow the same rules as one would find in a court of law, fairness and efficiency may require the Judge to rule evidence and testimony out of order.

Prepare in advance. Make a list of your key points and be prepared to address all issues raised in the determination under appeal. Stay calm. Do not be defensive or aggressive. You are at the hearing to present facts and to bring into question those facts presented by the other party. It might also be helpful to be prepared to take notes, as you will have to wait for the appropriate time to ask a question, dispute testimony, or provide additional relevant information.

The Importance of Witnesses & Subpoenas

You must inform the appeals office in advance of the names and telephone numbers of witnesses whom you want to testify in the hearing. Make sure that your witnesses are willing to participate and that they will be available at the time of the hearing. If a witness is not available, you may obtain and submit a written statement from them. That statement will carry more weight if it is sworn and notarized, but such statements never carry the full weight of direct testimony at the hearing. If a witness whom you believe to be vital to your case refuses to testify, you may request that the administrative law judge issue a subpoena. A subpoena request must be submitted in writing, in advance of the hearing date. The request must include a statement that the witness has been asked to testify but has refused. It must also explain why the witness's testimony is essential and provide a physical address (not a PO box) for each witness. A subpoena request may be granted or denied at the judge's discretion.

Contacts with the Administrative Law Judge Outside of the Hearing

The Administrative Law Judge generally will have no contact with you or any party outside of the hearing. This is to avoid the appearance of unfairness or of accepting evidence outside the hearing. Other members of the appeals office will advise or assist you with procedural questions. In the State of Vermont, Appeal Hearings are CONFIDENTIAL and are not open to the public.

Postponement of a Hearing

You should make every attempt to participate in the Appeal Hearing when scheduled. Either party may request a postponement but the postponement must be for good cause, which is determined by the Appeals representative, who makes the decision on a case-by-case basis. If you wish to have a postponement, you must call the Appeals office to request one, as far in advance of the hearing date as possible.

Withdrawal of an Appeal

If you wish to withdraw your appeal, you should do so in writing. You should notify the Appeals office as soon as possible prior to the date of the hearing. If the employer has filed the appeal, you cannot withdraw the appeal and the hearing will take place. If the appeal is withdrawn, the initial determination or decision becomes final and cannot be changed.

Confidentiality

The information you and your employer(s) provide the department is confidential and will not be released to the public. Information will be shared with you and your employer(s) if necessary to process the claim for benefits. In addition, federal and/or state law requires the department to release information to the following agencies:

- Vermont Department of Children & Families
- Vermont Department of Taxes
- Vermont's Crime Victims Restitution Unit
- Vermont Office of Child Support
- Vermont Department of Education
- Social Security Administration
- National Directory of New Hires
- US Department of Housing & Urban Development
- U. S. Department of Labor
- All Unemployment Insurance Agencies
- Federal Parent Locator Service

Findings and conclusions contained in departmental decisions are not admissible in any other venue.

Equal Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is the Law. The Vermont Department of Labor is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Applications from women, individuals with disabilities, and people from diverse cultural backgrounds are encouraged. Auxiliary aids and services are available upon request to individuals with disabilities. 711 (TTY/Relay Service) or (802) 828-4203 TDD (Vermont Department of Labor).

It is against the law for the Vermont Department of Labor, being a recipient of Federal financial Assistance, to discriminate on the following bases:

Against any individual, on the basis of race, disability, color, ancestry, place of birth, national origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, religion, political affiliation or belief.

WHAT TO DO if you believe you have experienced discrimination:

If you think you have been subjected to discrimination, you may file a complaint within 180 days from the alleged violation with either:

- The recipient's Equal Opportunity Officer – Vermont Department of Labor
by mail: Post Office Box 488, Montpelier, Vermont 05601-0488;
by telephone: (802) 828-4170;
by e-mail: imcgurran@labor.state.vt.us; by TDD: (802) 828-4203; or
- The Director, Civil Rights Center (CRC) U.S. Department of Labor
by mail: 200 Constitution Avenue, Room N-4123, Washington, DC 20210

If you filed your complaint with the recipient, you must wait either until the recipient issues a written Notice of Final Action, or until 90 days have passed (whichever is sooner), before filing a complaint with the Civil Rights Center (see address above).

If the recipient does not give you a written Notice of Final Action within 90 days of the day on which you FILED your complaint, you do not have to wait for the recipient to issue that Notice before filing a complaint with the CRC. However, you must file your CRC complaint within 30 days of the 90-day deadline. In other words, within 120 days after the date on which you FILED your complaint with the recipient.

If the recipient does give you a written Notice of Final Action on your complaint, but you are dissatisfied with the decision or resolution, you may file a complaint with the Civil Rights Center. You must file your CRC complaint within 30 days of the date on which you received the Notice of Final Action.

Limited English Proficiency and Sign Language Interpreters

If a language translator or a sign language interpreter is needed, please contact the department immediately. The department uses a telephone based language interpretation service for non-English speaking parties. If a sign language interpreter is needed the department will make arrangements.

Americans with Disabilities Act

This department complies with the Americans with Disability Act. Should you require special assistance due to a disability, as defined in the Act, in order to pursue your rights, please contact the department immediately.

Determinations

When you file an initial claim for benefits, the department must make several initial decisions about whether or not you are entitled to receive unemployment.

- The department will determine if you have sufficient wages to qualify you for a weekly benefit amount. You will receive a “Monetary Determination” that explains the wages we have used to determine whether you have been paid enough wages to qualify for a weekly benefit amount and what that amount will be. This will list the employers you have worked for and the wages reported under your social security number during the base period. If information is missing, such as wages from another state or wages from a Vermont employer, you will receive additional monetary re-determinations, as the department obtains this information. If you did not work for any employers indicated on this notice or if the wage amounts are incorrect or missing, contact Claimant Assistance.
- The department will determine if you meet the basic eligibility requirements for benefits, such as ability and availability for work. This may create an issue on your claim, and therefore require going through the adjudication process.
- The department will determine if there is anything regarding your separation from employment that would create an issue on your claim, such as a voluntary quit, a discharge, a medical separation, or separation pay. This may create an issue on your claim, and therefore require going through the adjudication process.

Claims Adjudication Process

A notice will be mailed to you indicating the time and date of a fact-finding interview, if one is necessary. This is your only opportunity to discuss your situation with a claims adjudicator. If you miss the fact finding interview the adjudicator will render the determination based on available information and mail it to you. This determination will explain whether you have been found eligible to receive benefits or not.

If you quit a job for personal reasons not attributable to the employer you may be disqualified from receiving benefits until you have started new employment, earned six times your weekly benefit amount, and become unemployed through no fault of your own.

If you were fired for misconduct the standard disqualification of 9 weeks is usually imposed.

If you were fired for gross misconduct you may be disqualified from receiving benefits until you have started new employment, earned six times your weekly benefit amount, and become unemployed through no fault of your own.

Separation pay may disqualify you or result in a reduction of benefits for one or more weeks.

Length of Payments

A benefit year is 52 weeks starting the week you establish your initial claim. Eligible claimants may receive 26 weeks of benefits until they reach their maximum benefit amounts. If you work part time and receive partial unemployment benefits, you may file until your benefit year expires or you exhaust your benefit entitlement. Once you are paid your maximum amounts, you cannot file again until your benefit year expires. The department will notify you if extended benefits become available.

Calculating a Weekly Benefit Amount

Your weekly benefit amount is based on gross wages paid to you as reported by your former, liable employer(s). To be monetarily eligible for benefits, you must have earned the minimum amount (required by law) of “covered” wages in your highest quarter of the base period and the remaining quarters of the base period must equal or exceed 40% of the highest quarter. The weekly benefit amount is calculated by adding the wages in the two highest quarters in the base period together, and dividing by 45, then rounding down to the next whole dollar. You will receive a monetary determination in the mail listing your quarterly wages. If any of the wage information is missing or incorrect, call Claimant Assistance.

Wages Not Used to Determine a Weekly Benefit Amount

Although most individuals are covered for unemployment purposes provided they have sufficient earnings and meet all other eligibility requirements, state law excludes certain types of employment from coverage. The types of services that are excluded from coverage include, but are not limited to:

- Elected officials to state and local governments, members of a legislative body or the Judiciary, members of the State National Guard or Air National Guard, and certain temporary “emergency employment”;
- Some nonprofit religious, charitable, agricultural, education organizations or institutions of higher education, railroad employment; and for State hospitals;
- Insurance agents, solicitors or salespersons, if solely paid by commissions and/or are required to be licensed by state law;
- A sole proprietor, or his/her spouse, or civil union partner, parent or children under the age 18;
- A partnership or a member/manager of a Limited Liability Company or Limited Liability Partnership and their spouses or civil union partners parent and children under 18;
- Employment at a small farm;
- Wages earned as a direct seller

Base Periods

An individual must have earned a minimum amount of wages during a fixed period of time known as the “base period” to qualify for unemployment. The wages used to determine your unemployment eligibility and your weekly benefit amount (WBA) are wages that were paid to you during each calendar quarter of your base period, regardless of when you earned them. Vermont law provides three main and one special method to determine a base period. They are:

First Method: First 4 of the last 5 completed calendar quarters preceding the effective date of your claim. The law requires the Department use this method if you are monetarily eligible, regardless of the benefit amount. IF ineligible by the first method, the second method may be used.

Second Method: Last 4 completed calendar quarters preceding the effective date of your claim. IF ineligible by the second method, the third method may be used.

Third Method: Last 3 completed calendar quarters and the current quarter, using wages paid up to the effective date of your claim. IF ineligible by the third method, the fourth method may be used.

Fourth Method: Applies only if your separation from work was due to an “on the job injury” resulting in a Workers’ Compensation Claim. Under these conditions your base period is adjusted so wages that would have been available to you at the time of injury are now available. To be eligible under this method, you must have filed your new claim for Unemployment within six months of the date your temporary Workers’ Compensation payments ended.

When To Expect Benefit Payments

If there are no issues on your claim, payments begin approximately 2 weeks after your initial contact to the department. Issues that require fact-finding generally include separations other than lack of work and separation payments. During the fact-finding process, benefits will not be paid and you will receive a notice indicating there is an unresolved issue on your claim. You must file your weekly claims during this period.

Unemployment benefits are paid by check or direct deposit. The department suggests using direct deposit since it is the quickest way to receive your benefits. Direct deposits are processed and generated the next workday. However, unemployment checks are mailed once a week, no matter what day you file. Checks are normally mailed from Montpelier on Thursdays. A legal holiday may delay mail service and direct deposits.

Direct Deposit Services

You can enroll in direct deposit services by:

- calling 1-800 983-2300 and pressing option #6;
- through our “On-Line Service” available on our website at www.labor.vermont.gov ; or
- calling the Claimant Assistance Line at 1-877-214-3332.

Before you call, have the following information available:

1. Social Security Number
2. Your financial Institution’s routing Number – This is a nine digit number
3. Your Account Number – This may be up to seventeen digits
4. Type of Account – checking or savings

Simply follow the step-by-step instructions provided. If either the account or routing number contains any letters, you must enroll on-line or call Claimant Assistance for enrollment.

All direct deposits must go through a “pre-note” process with your financial institution to verify the information. Upon verification, you can expect the first direct deposit to occur 14 calendar days after initial enrollment. Direct deposits are not made on weekends or holidays. A paper check will be mailed until the enrollment process is completed.

If your account or routing number changes, you must immediately change your direct deposit information by one of the three enrollment methods mentioned above. Changes in account or routing numbers require another “pre-note” process.

It is your responsibility to maintain accurate information to prevent delays in processing your payments.

“If you are depositing to a Statement Savings account, please contact your Financial Institution to obtain this Information before enrolling in the Service.”

Re-qualifying for a New Benefit Year

If you are unemployed when your benefit year ends, you may apply for a new claim. To re-qualify, you must have performed work since the effective date of your last benefit year and earned at least four times your weekly benefit amount. You must also call the New or Reopen Claims line at 1-877-214-3330 to establish a new benefit year.

Unemployment Insurance & Income Taxes

Unemployment benefits are taxable and must be reported as gross income on your federal and state income tax returns. You may elect to have federal and state taxes withheld from your weekly benefits. You may change your withholding option once during any benefit year. The department will notify you, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), and the Vermont Department of Taxes of benefits you received, and taxes withheld from those benefits (if any) for the prior year. You will be mailed a 1099G by the end of January. It will be mailed to the current address on file. If you lose your 1099G it is not necessary to obtain a new copy, as you are not required to submit a copy of this document to the IRS or Vermont Department of Taxes.

Wage Record Crossmatch

The department regularly matches the wage record reports of all employers with benefit payment records to detect inappropriate or fraudulent claims. You will be notified if an overpayment is found and a determination will be issued requiring repayment of any overpaid benefits. The department has three years from the date of payment to determine if benefits have been improperly paid. Penalties may be imposed and court action may be taken if it is found that you intentionally failed to disclose or misreported your earnings while filing for unemployment.

New Hire Crossmatch

The department collects information from Vermont employers who are required to report all newly hired individuals within 21 days of the date of hire. We compare this information against unemployment records to determine if someone is both working and filing for unemployment benefits. This program will also match unemployment records against a national database so individuals who go to work in another state while receiving unemployment benefits in Vermont will be discovered.

Benefit Accuracy Measurement Program

Benefits Accuracy Measurements is a system designed to detect errors and fraud in the Unemployment Insurance Program. Claims to be audited are selected randomly each week. Therefore, you may be selected more than once. The audit includes a review of eligibility for unemployment, employer records, department records, claimant's work search contacts, and claimant statements. This audit insures accuracy of your claim. Penalties may be imposed and court action may be taken if it is found that you intentionally failed to disclose or misreported your earnings while filing for unemployment.

Benefit Overpayment, Recovery, and Penalty Weeks

If you are not truthful or fail to disclose important information to receive unemployment benefits you will be required to repay the money to the department. Future benefits can and will be withheld to offset your overpayment until paid in full and penalty weeks may be assessed. Your state tax refund can be withheld, you can be taken to court for a Judgment Order and a future employer may be required to withhold earnings from your paycheck.

The department will impose penalty weeks in situations where it is determined you intentionally misrepresented a material fact in order to obtain benefits for which you are not otherwise entitled to receive. If penalty weeks are assessed, you will lose the right to collect future benefits. You will not be paid for future claims until you have "offset" the number of penalty weeks by filing the same number of weekly claims. Penalty weeks reduce your benefit balance.

Vermont Department of Labor Resource Centers

If you are seeking employment, training, or a job change, contact a VDOL Resource Center. You'll have a team of professionals working to get you back in the workforce. Staff will talk to you about your work history, education, training, job knowledge and vocational potential in order to help you find the job that is right for you.

The staff will:

- Help you determine your strengths so you can zero in on careers best suited for you
- Help you make a plan to get to where you want to be with your career
- Refer you to training and resources offered by other organizations
- Refer you to suitable job openings

If you are filing for unemployment and receive a referral to a job opening, it is your responsibility to contact the employer immediately. Failure to do so may result in a denial and or overpayment.

The following services are available at your local Resource Center:

Computers and Internet access
Photocopier
Educational Resources
Local and Statewide Job Listings
Labor Market Information
Resume Preparation Assistance
Veteran Services
Older Worker Program
Workshops
Employment Search Assistance

Fax Machine
Resource Library
Career Counseling
Federal and State Government Job Listings
Career Assessment and Aptitude Testing
Training Programs
Apprenticeship Program
Youth Employment Programs
Job Clubs

A complete list of our Resource Centers is indicated on the inside back cover of this handbook.

Training Services

The Workforce Investment Act (WIA) is administered by the Workforce Development Division of the VDOL. WIA focuses on the training, education, and employment needs of an individual. A variety of training services are available from your local Resource Center including skills training, classroom training and On-The-Job training.

Vermont Joblink

Vermont Joblink (www.vermontjoblink.com) is an Internet based no-fee job matching and workforce information system for employers and job seekers. Anyone can access and utilize a variety of services through an individual self-service account. By registering you make yourself available to a large number of employers who may be looking to fill openings.

Prospective Employers

Employers can create and manage job orders, search resumes, and access useful occupational and labor market information. Therefore, it is important to register with our Vermont JobLink.

Job Seeker Services

Job seekers can create a complete on-line printable resume that employers can view. Resumes can be automatically e-mailed to employers at a job seekers request. There are seven ways to conduct a job search on-line:

Quick Search:	This can be done prior to logging into your self-service account to quickly view job openings by keywords or geographic area.
Basic Search:	View job openings with set job-search criteria such as: geographic area, job title, type of job, and age of job order. You can save these criteria and create a profile for subsequent searches.
Type of Job:	Search using keywords from a list of job classifications.
Employer Name:	Search for employer name if interested in a specific company.
Job Order ID #:	Search with a specific job order ID number.
Resume Objective:	Search by resume objective if you have a completed on-line resume.
Saved Profile:	Search from a Basic Search profile previously saved.

Other Joblink Services include:

Career Information: Allows you to view a listing of growth occupations, highest paying jobs and a comparison of various occupational categories.

Eligibility Screening: Allows you to self-screen to assess your potential eligibility for additional career related services.

Apprentice Training

Training takes place both on the job under the supervision of a skilled journey-level worker and in a classroom setting. Apprenticeship programs last from 1 to 6 years. Contact your Resource Center Apprenticeship Program Representative or call (802) 828-4356 for more information.

HOW TO PROPERLY REPORT GROSS WAGES WHILE YOU ARE FILING FOR AND RECEIVING UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE (UI) BENEFITS WORKSHEET

The purpose of this worksheet is to assist you in properly reporting your gross wages and hours worked while filing for UI benefits. If you perform work and file for benefits during a given week, this worksheet can be very helpful in calculating the amount to report and also serve as a reference document if questions about your reported earnings later arise.

Please keep in mind that failure to provide true and accurate information when filing your weekly claim will result in an overpayment of UI benefits. If it is determined that you intentionally misrepresented your claim, along with having to repay overpaid monies, penalties will be imposed or criminal court action could be taken against you.

If you have questions regarding proper reporting of hours or gross wages while filing for UI benefits, or you discover you have made a mistake in your reporting, please call the Claimant Assistance Line at 1-877-214-3332.

	Claim Week Begins	February					Claim Week Ends
	Sun.	Mon.	Tues.	Weds.	Thurs.	Fri.	Sat.
Example A	8	9	10	11	12	13 Worked 6 Hrs. Earned $48.00	14 Worked 3 Hrs. Earned $24.00	Week Ending February 14th
Example B	15	16 Worked 4.5 Hrs. Earned $40.50	17 Worked 4 Hrs. Earned $36.00	18 Worked 6.75 Hrs. Earned $60.75	19 Worked 4 Hrs. Earned $36.00	20 Worked 4 Hrs. Earned $36.00	21	Week Ending February 21st

EXAMPLE A: Weekly Earnings Worksheet

	Sun.	Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thurs.	Fri.	Sat.	W/E 02/14/xx
Hours Worked						6	3	9
Rate of Pay						$8.00	$8.00	Total To Report On Weekly Claim
Total Earned						$48.00	$24.00	$72.00
Name and Address of Employer(s)						John's Deli 321 "B" St. Stowe, VT	John's Deli 321 "B" St. Stowe, VT

EXAMPLE B: Weekly Earnings Worksheet

	Sun.	Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thurs.	Fri.	Sat.	W/E 02/21/xx
Hours Worked		4.5	4	6.75	4	4		23.25 (round down) 23
Rate of Pay		$9.00	$9.00	$9.00	$9.00	$9.00		Total To Report On Weekly Claim
Total Earned		$40.50	$36.00	$60.75	$36.00	$36.00		$209.25
Name and Address of Employer(s)						John's Deli 321 "B" St. Stowe, VT	John's Deli 321 "B" St. Stowe, VT

To calculate gross wages earned each day, you must multiply the total hours worked by the rate of pay. The amount that you would be required to report on your weekly claim is the grand total of all the daily earnings, along with the grand total of the number of hours worked. For Example A, you would report working a total of 9 hours and gross wages of $72.00, regardless of whether or not you have been paid for this work. For Example B, you would report working a total of 23 hours (rounding down 23.25 hours to 23 hours) and gross wages of $209.25, regardless of whether or not you have been paid for this work.

You will also need to enter the Week Ending (W/E) date on the chart, for the week that you are reporting gross wages for.

WORK SEARCH REPORT

Name: _____ Last four digits of your SS#: _____

You are required to make and keep accurate records of all job contacts. A valid contact depends on the type of work you are qualified to perform. Submitting a resume would be a valid contact when applying for work in a “professional” trade. Applying in person would be a valid contact for “non-professional” trades, such as work in construction or retail sales. Telephone calls are not an acceptable method of contact. You may be asked to submit a copy of this list to the department. Always keep a copy of your list. Call claimant assistance for more forms when needed.
